Armed Bandit Gets $1000 Early Today

Gas Station Manager Forced to Open Safe; 22 Other Area Thefts

An armed bandit escaped with $1000 in a gray money bag at the Madison Motor service station, Route 203, at 5:30 a.m. today after forcing the station manager, Robert Weissensaul, to open a safe in the rear of the station.

Weissensaul told Madison county sheriff deputies he had opened the station at 5:15 a.m. and went outside to obtain some water when a man stuck something feeling like a pistol in his back.

The manager was ordered to go into the station and not to turn around. After opening the safe, he was ordered to leave the floor and cover his head with a raincoat. No description was obtained of the bandit, and Weissensaul said he saw no sign of an auto in the area.

In 22 other theft cases reported in the area over the weekend, there were nine burglaries and thefts at homes, four burglaries at business places, three autos were stolen—one wrecked and burned—and five thefts from autos, as well as a break in at a State Park place school.

Cleaning Shop Burglary. Coins and currency totalling $162 were taken in a burglary Friday night at the Namekiki Cleaners, 2048 Namekiki road. Also stolen were a grey metal box containing bank bags, deposit slips, a letter and a rubber stamp.

The intruder bent a fan blade, cut a rope and opened a trap door in the roof to travel through and drop into the building. He borrowed a stepladder and doors to depart through the trap door.

Burglars broke into the Hildegarde drug store, 12th street and Madison avenue, Madison, Friday night or early Saturday morning and stole a number of cartons of cigarettes, a quantity of whisky and some coins from the cash register.

Entry was gained by cutting the rear screen to unhook the door and breaking out a window so that bars across the door could be lifted. An inventory will be necessary to determine the amount of the loss, police said.

A burglar at the Kuensetter hardware store, 1201 Nineteenth street, Tuesday night or Wednesday night, stole a quantity of coins, copper tubing worth $50 and a 500-foot spool of copper meter wire valued at $116. The thief cut the lock, cut the bar door and ransacked a desk.

A $40 pair of men's work shoes which had been on was worn from the store by one of two men who left the Surplus store, Nidringhaus avenue and 19th street, at 2:45 p.m. Friday. Later hauling an auto, police charged the East St. Louis, with disorderly conduct.

Man Arrested Leaving Building; Padlock Broken

A Madison man was held by police on a burglary charge today following his arrest yesterday morning at O'Dell's Iron Yard, 1410 Second street, Madison, where police said he had broken into the warehouse.

Officers said they looked Freddie L. Withrow, 39, of 1415 Fifth street, after he admitted that he had entered the place because he thought a quantity of copper was stored there. Police said they received an anonymous telephone call about 12:05 a.m. yesterday from a man who said someone was breaking into the warehouse.

Officers Ronald Grzywasz and Edward Golan reported that as they pulled up to the warehouse, Withrow walked out of the front door carrying a flashlight and wearing work clothes. Withrow's car was pulled up against the front door and they found a crowbar and a screwdriver in the front seat.

A padlock had been cut and was found on the floor of the building behind the driver's seat. Later was identified by Herman O'Dell, operator of the metal firm, as the one that had been on the front door, police said.

GC Police Sue Chief Veizer in Desk Clerk Case

A mandamus suit was filed today by the Granite City Police Union against Police Chief Veizer in connection with the employment of two women as police desk clerks.

The union asks the court to force Chief Veizer to comply with provisions of city ordinance 2673 in which desk clerks are to be named from employees of the police department.

Signifying the complaint were Robert Astorian, Harry Mitchell, Richard Bell, Richard Wagner and Louis Mark as officials of Local 1347, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, and as individual taxpayers.

They claim police officers are being deprived of their rights under the law. Assigned to desk clerk duties since last Feb. 1 by Mayor Hartney and Police Chief Veizer, the women are Margaret Hull, former switchboard operator, and Mrs. Cleo Buttery, former secretary for the detective bureau.

Their salaries have been withheld for the past two months by the city council, the grievance which opposes their assignments.

Mank has been discharged as a patrolman by the Fire and Police commission but the case is under appeal in circuit court. He since has been reappointed as an officer of the local.

Thieves Lool 60 Gas-Parking Meters

About 60 parking meters were opened and the coin boxes removed during the theft of Granite City's downtown business district.

It was estimated that thieves obtained several hundred dollars in coins. Police officials said they are now short of coin boxes and doors to the meters, 17 of the job address, it is believed a key was used.

Madison Tavern Controls Pledged

Six of City's Eight Aldermen To Act on Issue After Election

A pledge that the problem of tavern control in Madison will be solved by city council action after the July 23 special election came today from six of the eight aldermen now serving on the council.

The group promised that decisions concerning such vital points as tavern closing hours and a limit on the number of taverns for which licenses would be issued will be made not by the aldermen and city officials alone, but also by a "Citizens Committee" appointed to work out the problem with the city council.

outer office shortly after 3 p.m. "I saw who it was and I called to Abel to come in, the mayor recalled. "He came in to my office and the first thing he said was 'what are you going to do about Mal land- fill?'"

The mayor explained that Abel had discussed the matter with him on previous occasions and had complained about the possibility of there having been no transfer of the lease to the present operators after, Abel claimed, he had been "moved out" as a landfill partner on orders of the same city official that he alleged had received a share of the landfill proceeds.

"I told Abel that I wasn't going to do anything about it, except possibly have the city attorney look into the status of the lease," Kozielek said.

Wanted to See Minutes
Abel then asked Kozielek if there was any reason that he could not examine the council minutes to see if the lease had been transferred. Abel charges that the original lease given him by the city of Madison in October 1967 on eight acres, and later expanded by another 34 acres, provided that the lease could not be transferred by the lessor, nor sublet by the lessee.

"I told him that there was no reason that he couldn't see the minutes, and for him to go downstairs and tell Miller (Comptroller Edward J. Miller) that I had sent him down to examine the minutes," Kozielek said. "But Abel told me that he had just been talking to Miller as he was leaving his office and that there was no one there (downstairs)."

"I told Abel that I didn't have a key to the office down- stairs and Abel asked me if there was anyone else who did," the mayor went on.

Kozielek said he replied that Belcoff had a key to the office, but that he was working at the First National Bank in Madison. "Abel asked me if we couldn't get him down here," the mayor added.

Kozielek said that "by that time I was getting curious about this problem myself so I agreed to call Belcoff and ask him if he would come down and open the office so that we could look up the minutes on the landfill transfer question." The mayor said he did so, but Belcoff was not at the bank.

"He returned within a few minutes," the mayor explained, "and he called me right back. I explained the situation and Belcoff said he would come down to the city hall."

Belcoff Arrives
According to the mayor, he and Sasyk and Abel waited a few minutes and we joined by Belcoff, who unlocked the door to the comptroller's office. Abel followed Belcoff in, with Kozielek following. Kozielek stood by the door to the office while Belcoff and Abel walked to the other side of the long room to a rack where the city council minute books are kept. Sasyk remained outside the office.

Belcoff began thumbing through one of the books and asked Abel about a date. "The next thing I heard," Kozielek said, "was some remarks by Belcoff. I heard him say something to Abel about 'spreading stories all over town.' Then I heard Abel say, 'when do you want to start?' and within an instant the two of them were scuffling on the other side of the room."

Kozielek ran across the room and pushed himself between the two men.

Injured in Fall
Emile Wilson, 57, of 2605 East 25th street, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital about 10:25 p.m. yesterday for facial injuries suffered in a fall at 13th street and Madison avenue.

Madison avenue, Madison police reported. Wilson told officers that he slipped and fell while crossing the street and struck his face against the curb. He suffered a cut the full length of his nose and abrasions to the chin, police said.

In early March 1968, and the operation turned over to Pasheba and Hartbarger, he said. Wilson, who had been the organizer of the project, the one who "put it together" and the one who actually worked at the landfill, Miller and Lee, Abel claims, received far more substantial payments merely for being partners in the operation.

His major protest which took him to Kozielek's office a day afternoon is the belief that Mal Landfill still is being operated under the lease originally issued to himself and which guaranteed no transfer to other parties. Abel said he has never been able to determine whether the Madison city council effected a new lease, or took action to transfer the old one.

"I have been trying to find out whether the old lease is still in effect," Abel said. "If it is, they are operating under the lease which the city of Madison gave to me."

MORE ABOUT Madison Tavern

record to make an in-depth study of the tavern situation in the city. The election has been conducted.

"The group making the study will be composed not only of members of the board of aldermen, but also of a Citizens Committee, to work concurrently with the board of aldermen."

"To be determined by the study will be:
"1. Tavern closing hours.
"2. Limit on the number of taverns.

"3. The appointment of an independent liquor control commission.
"4. Sanitary conditions surrounding taverns.

"5. Sale of alcoholic liquors to minors and habitual drunkards.
"6. Consumption of liquor upon the city streets and in parked motor vehicles.

"7. Elimination of undesirable elements from frequenting taverns.

"8. Discussions with tavern keepers of problems peculiar to them and to the city."

"9. Cooperation by tavern keepers with local police.
"10. This study is suggested because in September of 1968, an ordinance was drawn at the request of the late Stephen Maers to revise tavern closing hours."

"The proposed ordinance was presented to the city council in caucus on several occasions but it was tabled at the instigation of Alderman Kozielek. With the death of Mayor Maers this matter was again discussed in caucus and again was tabled."

"In this way it is felt that the tavern situation and the welfare of the general public will not be used as a political football in the forthcoming mayor's election."

"Because of Kozielek's attempt to feather his own nest politically, we feel he may seek to make a political football of this issue. Therefore, the undersigned have taken it upon themselves to make this statement of policy and we now ask the other candidates whether or not they will accept this policy. We are advised by Mike Sasyk that not only would he do so, but he would make it a part of his platform."

VA Says Outlook Brighter For Veteran Home Loans

The Veterans Administration today reported a brighter outlook in the immediate months ahead in its role as guarantor of home loans for veterans.

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson said housing starts under the VA program in February climbed to 56,000—the highest annual rate in the past 13 months. This seasonally adjusted figure was seven per cent above January, and 12½ above February a year ago.

Johnson said nearly 12,000 applications for GI loans were received in February, almost 90% of them from post-Korean veterans.

He explained that housing demands of this group of veterans contributed to the favorable outlook, and was foreseen by loan guaranty officials in VA's budget and appropriations request for fiscal year 1971.

In making that forecast, officials then expressed the view that housing demands would increase. They also acknowledged that the full needs of younger Vietnam era and other post-Korean veterans probably would not be satisfied, even though VA loan activity would increase in fiscal years 1970 and 1971.

The VA administrator also reported that requests for appraisals of newly built homes increased on a seasonally adjusted annual rate to 142,000 in February. This compares with 141,000 requests in January, 1970, and 132,000 in February last year.

The seasonally adjusted annual rate for home loan applications was 196,000 in February, up from 183,000 in January, Johnson noted.

He added that loan applications for existing homes reached an annual rate of 124,000 in February, an increase of 4,000 over January's annual rate.

Injunction Suit Filed in Zimring Vending Dispute

An injunction suit involving the Zimring Vending Co., headquartered at the Maers Industrial park, has been transferred from St. Clair county to the Madison county circuit court on a change of venue.

The suit, instituted by Morris H. Zimring against Ben Zimring, company president, seeks to restrain Ben Zimring from further operations of the corporation, to prevent issuance of 23 shares of additional company stock at $250 per share, and asks for appointment of a receiver to handle, manage and control the business so its assets will be preserved.

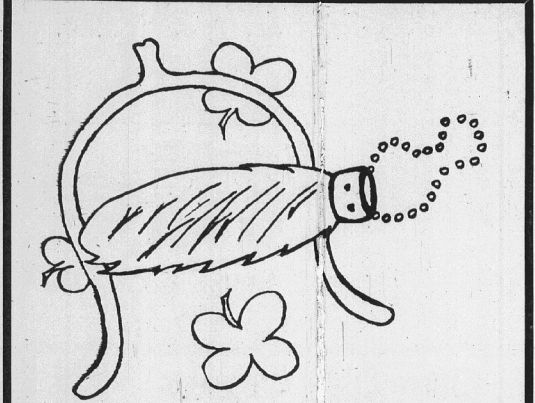

According to the complaint, Morris Zimring is the owner of 180 shares of common stock, with a par value of $100, of Zimring & Sons Tobacco & Candy Co., predecessor of the current firm.

It also states that the majority stockholder is Sadie Zimring, who has a limited life estate according to terms of the will of the late Frank Zimring, with the stock to be divided equally between Morris and Ben Zimring at the termination of her life.

Documents on file show that last Jan. 26, Morris Zimring was removed as vice-president and secretary of the company by the board of directors which had authorized issuance of an additional 23 shares of common stock at $250 to be offered present stockholders.

Morris Zimring believes that unless the company is restrained by court order, the firm will issue the stock to Sadie Zimring, and as a result the plaintiff will be damaged.

The complaint alleges that a dispute exists as to the rights of the various parties to participate in operation of the business, and internal dissensions are jeopardizing the corporation and frustrating its purpose.

Kentucky Fried No. 1 Commercial Food Firm

"Institutions," a magazine called the "bible" of the food industry, has given its first award to the Kentucky Fried Chicken Corp. for achieving its position as the nation's largest commercial food retailer, Leonard Yelton operates the local restaurant.

Only the U. S. Army, U. S. Navy and U. S. Department of Agriculture School Lunch Program exceed the firm in food production. Kentucky Fried Chicken outlets last year with total sales of $200 million.

"We were so impressed by the fact that you expanded to the point of rivaling the U. S. government in food production," Publisher David Wexler said, "that we inaugurated this award to honor that growth."

The three basic criteria for the award were quality of food, cleanliness of the premises and service of the operator. Wexler also praised the image: "The public considers Kentucky Fried Chicken to be food prepared by a friendly neighbor."

The company now has over 2500 locations in the U. S., plus many abroad.

Reviewing the growth from the No. 12 position in 1965 to leadership this year, Wexler added, "You have experienced amazing growth in a highly competitive industry—a tribute to high standards and a quality product. The success of the Kentucky Fried Chicken Corp. is one of the most astonishing and delightful stories in American business history."

Auditions Extended For Youth Orchestra

Due to the enthusiastic response of applicants, auditions for the St. Louis Symphony Youth Orchestra have been extended to include a second full day, it was announced today by the Youth Orchestra manager, Mrs. Edith Hougland.

In addition to the previously announced audition date of Saturday, May 9, the following Saturday, May 16, has also been scheduled for auditions from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Powell Symphony Hall.

To date, 86 applications have been received. The orchestra's conductor and music director, Leonard Slatkin, who is assistant conductor of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, has announced that up to 115 Youth Orchestra members may be selected during the two days of auditions.

All young musicians in this area between the ages of 12 and 21 are being encouraged to audition for the Youth Orchestra, a new organization.

Sponsored by the Women's Association of the St. Louis Symphony Society, the Youth Orchestra has been formed to familiarize its members with the environment of a professional orchestra and to allow them to investigate symphonic music within the atmosphere and surroundings of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.

Members also will learn the orchestral repertoire and the pleasures of good music-making. In addition to Slatkin, Maestro Walter Susskind and St. Louis Symphony guest conductors will be invited to lead the Youth Orchestra.

Applicants must be residents of the greater St. Louis area or surrounding Illinois communities, and must provide their own instruments for auditions, rehearsals and concerts.

The first rehearsal is slated for Saturday, Oct. 3, and the Youth Orchestra will rehearse at Powell Symphony Hall each Saturday until May 1971, excluding holidays and periods when the Symphony Orchestra is on tour.

Slatkin has announced that he plans to conduct the Youth Orchestra in two concerts during the first season. "Students may be obtained from Mrs. Hougland, (314) 644-1696.

Gifted Students to Attend Summer Instruction in GC

Selected students of the Granite City school district will participate this summer in "enrichment" courses offered by Prather junior high school for fourth through sixth graders and at Coolidge junior high for seventh through ninth graders.

Discussing the Prather program for academically superior Granite City students who are completing the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, Mrs. Sally Sowell, director of the district's gifted program, describes the instruction as consisting of "special courses designed to enrich the education of students recommended by their teachers as showing ability to benefit from them."

"The areas of study differ from the curriculum taught during the school year," she explains. "Students are able to choose what they wish to study, and in most classes, plan together the method of study."

"A close relationship between student and teacher exists due to the lower student-teacher ratio and the freedom of curriculum content."

"The classes are designed as enrichment classes; that is, they will allow the student to delve into subjects of particular interest to him or to work in areas he has not had the opportunity to study during the school year."

Typing, Speed Reading
"Several new classes have been added this summer—typing, tool usage and engine repair, speed reading and Junior Mundy Opera."

Also scheduled are computer language, creative dramatrics, experimental science, imaginative writing, nature study, novels in paperback, oceanography, prehistoric times, use of the library, Russian, beginning and intermediate Spanish and German, arts and crafts, folk guitar, industrial arts for boys and girls, and beginning and intermediate band.

The instruction at Prather, 2500 West 25th street, will be given on weekdays from 9 a.m. to noon, June 15 through July 31.

Book, Supply Fee
Prather was chosen because of its facilities for science and dramatics and the school library. The book rental and supply fee will be $2.50.

Mrs. Sowell is urging parents of recommended pupils to "discuss it with your child and explain the merits of the program before reaching a cooperative decision." Each participant must enroll in two 80-minute classes.

Mathematics, Logic
Older selected students will report to Coolidge junior high school from 8 a.m. to noon Monday through Friday, June 12 through July 30.

Seventh graders will study enriched mathematics and eighth and ninth graders will take elementary logic.

No work will be required outside the classroom for either course. The fee for book rental and supplies is $3. No academic credit or grades will be given.

A child may take part in the mathematics program only for two hours, or may enroll in an additional course and attend school for four hours.

Study of Ecology
Whether or not he enrolls in the mathematics enrichment program, the following courses will be available to him as a part of the regular summer school program at Coolidge—creative reading, creative dramatics, computer operation, ecology, geography in an urban area, journalism, Russian, modern science and oceanography, all a part of Group I; and, Group II, band, art enrichment, plastics, vocal music, model building, creative words and home mechanics.

Another group of academically superior students, listed by social studies, English, science, vocal and dramatics teachers, has been recommended for seventh-ninth grade courses in Group I.

They also may take a course in Group II if they wish.

Vandals Friday night kicked in a tool shed door, breaking the lock, at 2933 Pershing avenue and also threw a block of wood, causing in paneling of a house trailer at 3003 Edwardsville road. Both the shed and trailer are owned by Earl Abel of the Pershing address.

A hammer apparently was used to damage a concrete patio at the home of Marie Fogle, 2325 East 25th street, Saturday. An Army Depot soldier was chased to the main Depot gate at 2:10 a.m. Sunday and accused of breaking the radio aerials of the parked 1970 autos of John Varadian, 741 Niedringhaus avenue, and Louis Becerra, 1724 Poplar street, in the 800 and 900 block of Niedringhaus.

One of four men who went to the apartment of Joel Joseph, 2122a Delmar avenue, at 8:40 p.m. Friday kicked in the door, breaking glass and a lock.

A pellet from a pellet gun shattered the windshield of the auto of Glen Moore, 2019 Missouri avenue, at 6 p.m. Friday while he was driving on 21st street near State street.

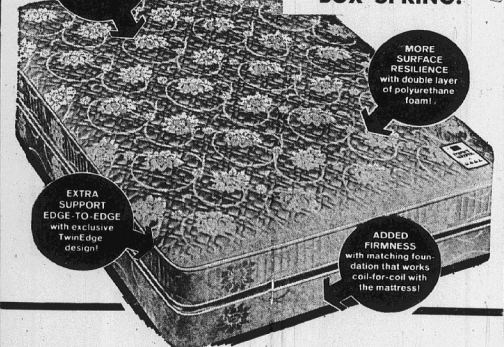

The William Barton apartment at 1441r Madison avenue was broken into and apparently used as the site of a beer and vodka party Saturday. A lock was forced off the door, and articles in the apartment were scattered about.

'Acre of Art' Exhibition Tonight at Memorial Gym

The seventh annual "Acre of Art" exhibition, which serves as a public showcase for artwork created by Granite City elementary, junior high and senior high school students, will be held from 6 to 9:30 p.m. today at Granite City high school's Memorial Gymnasium.

The massive art display, in which more than 13,000 individual paintings and other artwork will be exhibited, annually attracts hundreds of visitors. Admission is free.

Sponsored by the Granite City Art Education Department, the "Acre of Art" derives its name from the amount of surface space utilized in the gymnasium building to display the thousands of exhibits. General coordinator for the program is Eugene L. Alassi, GCHS art consultant.

The annual show provides students at all grade levels an opportunity to post their work on public display. The creative efforts of as many children as possible are represented in the exhibition, Alassi said.

NAGC to Meet Tonight

The local chapter of the National Association for Gifted Children will meet at 7:30 p.m. today at Frohardt school. Irving Miles of Coordinated Youth Services will speak on drug abuse. The public is invited.

$17,500 Suit Filed In Coal Chute Mishap

A suit for $17,500 was filed last week for Denise Seitzer, a minor, by her father, Donald Seitzer, against Glen Beck and the city of Granite City in Madison county circuit court at Edwardsville.

According to the complaint, the girl was injured when she fell through a coal chute on a sidewalk on 21st street at Delmar avenue on April 29, 1969. Negligence was charged on the claim that hinges of the chute were allowed to deteriorate and that Beck, owner of the property, and the city were careless in maintenance of the chute.

White Telephone Links Wounded With Families

Since Clara Barton first set foot on the battlefields in 1861, a red cross has been the symbol of the American Red Cross. However, a new, more modern symbol is becoming associated with the organization. It's a telephone — a white one.

It has become a morale booster for patients returning from Vietnam. It is this white phone which links patients with their wives or parents—in most cases for the first time since leaving for Vietnam.

There's an added booster. The calls are free. The Red Cross pays the bill, and what a bill it is! Last year, the total at Scott Air Force Base was about $800 for the 8100 calls made.

Red Cross volunteers are scheduled to work about three or four hours one day a week. There are evening as well as day workers to handle calls going anywhere in the United States.

As soon as patients are bedded down, volunteers begin making calls. Not long afterward, an excited "Hi Mom! What ya been doing?" or a softer "Hello, Dear" can be heard.

Attempt to Firebomb House in W. Madison

An attempted firebombing occurred at the home of Richard Dupre, 808 (rear) Jackson street, West Madison, at 9 p.m. Thursday.

Dupre was in bed and heard breaking glass. He said he saw flames on the rear porch, but the fire failed to gain headway because of the rain. A group of youths fled up the alley behind his home, he said.

Madison police recovered a soda bottle from the back porch and said it smelled of kerosene. They later found a bag containing five soda bottles filled with kerosene which presumably had been intended for use as firebombs. Dupre's house was undamaged by the fire.

60 Action Booths Planned At 50th-Year Scout-O-Rama

Approximately 60 scouting units have reserved booth space for "action exhibits" at the Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council's golden anniversary Scout-O-Rama, it was reported at a monthly meeting of the council executive board Thursday evening at Edwardsville.

The Scout-O-Rama will be held from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday, May 16, at the ice rink recreation center in Wilson Park, Granite City. The public is being encouraged to buy tickets to the event.

Participating will be cub packs, scout troops and explorer posts from the three council districts — Uniwah (Quadrant Cities), Illini (Edwardsville-Collinsville) and Kickapoo (Highland and Bond county areas).

A wide variety of scouting skills will be presented at the scouting fair, John Pekarik of Granite City, Scout-O-Rama general chairman, reported.

Also discussing the Scout-O-Rama was William F. Winter, council activities chairman. Council President G. Rollin Henn presided at the dinner.

Recruiting Emphasis Next

Dr. Stanley F. Maer, council organization and extension chairman, said special emphasis will be placed on recruiting of boys and formation of additional units upon completion of the Scout-O-Rama.

Present membership consists of 3807 boys in 143 units, including 1864 and 94 in Uniwah, 1300 and 43 in Illini and 343 in 16 in Kickapoo.

Robert Franzen, council camping chairman, reported Camp Sunnen summer reservations by 21 Uniwah, 15 Illini and eight Kickapoo units.

Leadership training program were reviewed by David Fox, council training chairman, who noted that the annual "show-and-go" event is set for June 6.

Confer on Campsite

Henry D. Karandjeff, Camp Sunnen acquisition chairman, reviewed meetings which are being held to perfect the wording of an agreement under which the Sunnen campsite near Potosi, Mo., is to be deeded over to the council.

Gene H. Sternberg discussed the Sunnen Ranger membership program. Council Treasurer Barry Loman reported on finances, and the two presented the 1971 council budget, which was adopted.

Council Commissioner William Shindel spoke on commissioner service to units, and there were progress reports by the three districts.

Attention was called to the national council annual meeting May 20-22 in Denver, Colo., and it was decided to hold the next annual council business session in November.

Authority on SE Asia To Speak at SIU-SW

Professor H. Franz Schurmann, an authority on China and Southeast Asia from the University of California at Berkeley, will speak at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern on May 7 and 8.

On Thursday, he will speak in a public program at 8 p.m. in the Madison Room, of the University Center, on the significance of the overthrow of Prince Sihanouk in Cambodia and the associated United States involvement in Laos.

On Friday, at 2:30 p.m. in Room 1316, Peck Building, he will analyze contemporary domestic Chinese political problems. Following each presentation Prof. Schurmann will answer questions.

He is author of several books on China, including "Ideology and Organization in Communist China." Prof. Schurmann has participated in numerous forums on Vietnam. He and then U.S. Representative to the U. N., Arthur Goldberg, took opposite positions on the U. S. involvement in Vietnam in a widely televised 1966 debate in the field house at Berkeley.

Prof. Schurmann is a sociologist and history faculty member at Berkeley. He has lectured several times in the Japanese language at Tokyo University and has spent considerable time in Asia.

His visit to SIU-SW is sponsored by the Social Sciences Division.

Gene Livingston, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Livingston, 2625 Adams street, departed last week for Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex., where he has begun a four-year enlistment in the Air Force. Prior to his enlistment, he was employed at a St. Louis department store and graduated from Granite City high school in June 1969.

Mr. and Mrs. Livingston's eldest son, Terry, 21, is also in the Air Force and is currently stationed at Clark Air Force Base, Manila, Philippine Islands. He graduated from Granite City high school in June 1967.

Art Show Entry Deadline Tuesday

Entry deadline is 5 p.m. tomorrow for the Town and Country Art Show for amateur artists to be held May 15, 16 and 17 at Loomis Hall at the Alton Center of SIU-SW.

The exhibit is to feature works by amateur artists from all of the county and surrounding area. An amateur artist is anyone who has no degree in art and does not receive half or more than half of his income from the sale of art work. It has been determined by the show committee.

A person may enter as many as four paintings with no limit in the other media classifications. The fee is $2. Media classifications include original works in carving, hand thrown ceramics, oil sculpture, watercolor, weaving, charcoal, collage, lapidary, metal work and jewelry, metal, enameling, mosaic pen and pencil, photography, pastel, tapestry, welding and original design creative stitchery.

The show is sponsored by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service, local artists and artists' groups. Additional information may be obtained by calling the Home Economics Extension office at Edwardsville-456-4862.

Hard of Hearing May Learn Lip Reading

New courses in Lip Reading will begin Thursday at the Shoenberg Research Building, 4949 Forest Park Blvd., St. Louis, under the direction of the Hospital's Division of Audiology. Classes will meet once a week from 1 to 2:30 p.m.

David Levine, coordinator of the program, said sessions are divided between individual consultation and group meetings. Because the program is offered through Jewish Hospital, it is possible for an eligible student to apply for Medicare to cover the cost of the course, he said.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Levine at 1-314-367-8060, Ext. 491.

Dram Shop Suit Filed Against Three Taverns

A dram shop suit seeking $15,000 each has been filed for Gary Wright and Bill Vest, a minor, by his father Archie Vest, against three area taverns in Madison county circuit court at Edwardsville.

The defendants are John E. Lewis, doing business as the Johnnie Lewis tavern; Jenny Huey, doing business as Big Jenny's Little Prince; and Robert Hodge's, doing business as Bob's tavern.

May—Sr. Citizen Month Employment Office Notes

With the designation of May as Senior Citizen Month, the Illinois State Employment Service is making special efforts to assist older workers to obtain meaningful employment. It was announced today by Malcolm A. Thompson, local ISES manager.

Employers are being asked to consider employment of qualified older workers so that they may participate in and contribute to the nation's economy," Thompson explained.

"Many older workers are not hired because of erroneous beliefs of employers. Among these beliefs are that hiring older workers is not likely to be great enough to involve rates significantly.

Some employers believe that older workers may not be as useful as younger workers due to lessened physical ability. However, many older persons are in excellent health and are able to compete with younger

Park Umpire Clinics Tomorrow, Thursday

A clinic for men and boys wishing to umpire in the Granite City park district baseball leagues will be held at the ice rink in Wilson Park on Thursday, May 5, and Thursday, May 7.

The sessions will begin at 7:30 p.m. Rules will be discussed along with the dress and mechanics of umpiring. A movie, "Know Your Baseball," will be shown and discussed.

Andy Sullivan, Russ Chappell and Conrad Champion, registered high school officials, will demonstrate positioning and other things helpful to boys' league umpires.

Anyone attending the clinic will be given priority when umpires are hired, it has been announced.

Bob Allen, athletic director for the park district, reports that baseball managers will be welcome at both sessions, as the film and discussions will be helpful for managing a baseball team.

Close Midwest Track Frosh-Soph Rivalry

Four schools finished within five points of winning the Midwest Conference freshman-sophomore track meet at Triad Thursday, foretelling a tight rivalry this race for next year.

The Midwest Conference will disband after next year. The competition in Thursday showed that a Bell, Triad, Highland and Madison should all be in the running for the loop's final track crown.

Bethalto's freshmen tallied 53 points to earn the league's "best prospects" title. Madison made a good showing with 48 points but rated only fourth.

The underclassmen Trojans were crowded out of a higher place by Triad's 50 1/2 points and Highland's 48 1/2. Roxana scored 19 and Dupu 18.

Younghood, Jenkins and James Younghood and Joe Williams produced a large share of the Trojans' points.

Younghood set a new record for the frosh-soph meet 100-yard dash. He won in 10.4 seconds.

Jenkins ran the 120-yard ten hurdles in a frosh-soph record time of 14.9 seconds, slipping a tenth-second off a 1969 mark.

He was second in the five hurdles (14.75) and tied for second in the long jump (18 feet).

Relay Squad Wins

Half-mile relays, Grady Pouncil, Larry Myers, Jenkins and Younghood, missed the record by one-tenth of a second. They ran a 1:31.1 winning time.

Other winning marks and Madison placed second in the 100 dash: Pouncil 4th 11.2; 400 dash: Bethalto's Davenport.

Discuss Changing Loop Constitution

Southwestern prep athletic conference members met at a committee Thursday to propose revisions in the league's constitution.

A major item the committee had planned to consider was a constitution change to allow more than seven schools to belong to the circuit.

Belleville West principal and league president Jerry Turner commented, "Quite a few revisions have been proposed," but he declined to give details of any proposals until after a May 25 league vote on the changes.

The present constitution limits its membership to seven schools, and Wood River is withdrawing from the Southwestern circuit after the 1970-71 season to join the newly-forming Mississippi Valley Conference.

Three currently independent schools, Belleville East, Cahokia and East St. Louis, have applied to fill the vacancy to be left by Wood River's departure. The constitutional revision vote will decide if more than one of the candidate schools can be considered for membership.

Warriors Win 7th in Row, Hope for Pennant

The Warriors have recorded seven straight baseball wins with the day's pitching holding the mon-dro distance in each of the wins.

Each of the four starters in the rotation, Jeff Boyles, Ed Hagman, Ned Tapp and Ron Simpson, has lowered his ERA to under 2.00. Boyles has the lowest earned run average of 1.00.

With this spurt of pitching excellence and fine batting, Granite City is back in the race for the Southwestern Conference title. Today, Collinsville will be at Wilson Park and tomorrow, Granite City visits Alton.

After tomorrow, GCHS has only one other conference game to play—a rain-out game with Edwardsville, still to be rescheduled.

GCHS does not have a clear shot at the league pennant but a sweep of the remaining loop encounters might put the Warriors in a tie for first place.

On Thursday, Granite City will host a non-conference game with Assumption at Wilson Park.

Friday's slated contest at Madison was rained out and probably will be rescheduled after the district tournament May 11-13.

Lefthander Tapp extended Granite City's victory string to five with a shutout win over Belleville Althoff 4-0 Thursday.

A Saturday doubleheader with Greenville added wins six and seven, Boyles winning the early game 3-1 and Simpson winning the capper, 6-1.

High jump: Bethalto's Thomas 5-2; pole vault: Bethalto's Noll 10-0; Michael Warts tied for 4th 9-0; mile relay: Triad 3:54.5; Pouncil, Rogers, Ronney, Jackson 2nd 3:59.5.

Team points totals might have been different if Madison's sophomore sprinter, Edwardo Chandler, had been well enough to compete. He suffered a toe sprain during the Madison county track meet last Tuesday.

Rain Delays Auto Speedway Opening: 35 Cars Due Friday

Heavy rains and lack of a ground-drying sun prevented the Tri-City Speedway from opening Friday night. The speedway's pit area, infield and parking lot were left under a deluge of water.

Capitol Racing Association plans opening night races here this Friday night, May 8. The triad will start at 7:30 p.m. and races at 8:30 p.m.

Auto also left the track in Jefferson City, Mo., in muddy condition but Saturday races were on through several mishaps.

Bill Utz of Sedalia, Mo., was the fastest qualifier but over-extended his engine and was unable to run the rest of the evening. He will be back in shape for the Friday races here.

Spalding of Granite City was the second fastest qualifier and won the third heat event.

He earned an excellent starting position for the feature but a multi-car collision in the first lap of the feature dashed his hopes.

Jerry Blundy of Galesburg, Ill., won the feature, Spalding's car was damaged.

Thirty-five cars are expected at the Tri-City Speedway Friday.

Madison Police Probe Attacks on Students

Madison authorities were investigating today the beating of a 16-year-old Madison high school student on the high school parking lot Friday afternoon and an attack on another student in the gymnasium locker room on Thursday.

William Dale Bridges, 16, said he was attacked by three youths as he reached his auto about 1:05 p.m. Friday. He told officers the trio accused him of pushing one of the attackers.

He said one of the other boys struck him and knocked him down and that all three of them then "stomped" on him. His sister, Kathy Bridges, 17, who was waiting for him in his car, witnessed the incident.

Police said identity of the three boys who attacked Bridges is known and that an investigation is continuing.

Paul Fanning, 15, of 938 Greenwood street, reported to police Friday that on the previous day he was struck by another youth while at his locker in the high school gymnasium. He said the blow knocked the wind out of him and resulted in bruises.

Madison Juvenile Officer William Fanning said that incident also is being investigated.

State Park Residents Seek Drainage Laws

Citing repeated flooding in their area, State Park Place residents said late last week they plan trips to Springfield and Washington to seek legislative clarification of levee and drainage responsibility and spending.

The neighborhood is in the East Side Levee and Sanitary district, which says it has no control over Canteen Creek. It attributes most State Park flooding to that creek.

The Garden Corner

Asparagus, Rhubarb Growing

Asparagus spears are pushing through the ground and harvest time is near.

Spears are ready for harvest when they are 6 to 8 inches long. They can be cut off at the base with a knife, or they can be snapped off by hand. All of the snapped spear is edible, and there is no effect on the plant from this method of harvesting.

You can harvest established plantings for 6 to 8 weeks. New plantings should not be picked until the third year.

For best early spring yields, you should have fertilized your asparagus planting before this. However, some results could still be obtained from an application of 1 to 2 pounds per 100 square feet of a garden fertilizer. Repeat after harvest is completed.

About the only pest in growing asparagus is the asparagus beetle. If it chews on your plants, apply carbaryl (sevin) as needed to bring it under control.

Rhubarb is also about ready for harvesting. Do not pick from one-year old plants, and be very conservative in harvesting from two-year old plants. Older plants can be picked for 8 to 10 weeks.

Harvesting for home use should serve to thin out the stalks and leaves. Remove the stalk by grasping it near the base and pulling slightly to one side. It is not necessary to cut it from the plant.

The fertilizer program should be the same as for asparagus. Next year's yield is dependent upon the growth the plant makes this year. Keep the seed stalks cut out.

Rhubarb should be planted in a well-drained soil. It can also be planted on a ridge. This is the best protection from crown rot, the major problem pest of this crop.

Sweet Corn for the Home

It is possible to have a constant supply of sweet corn from your garden throughout the summer. You can adjust the varieties and planting dates to extend this season to the utmost.

The first planting should be made now. It should include an early (67 to 72 days to maturity) variety and a main-crop (78 to 88 days to maturity). The remainder of the plantings should be of a main-crop variety because of better quality and adaptability.

Harvest of high quality corn should extend for five or more days from each planting. By making a new planting every 7 to 10 days, excellent eating is assured most of the summer. Planting by the calendar may cause some overlapping in maturity due to unusual weather conditions. This can be avoided by using the planting schedule printed in the University of Illinois Garden Guide available from your County Extension Adviser.

Griffith Urges 7-Day Period on Sentencing

In a letter to Third Judicial Circuit judges, State's Attorney R. W. Griffith Jr. has recommended that persons found guilty of crimes in trials be sentenced within seven working days after the trial ends.

This would speed disposition of cases and reduce the length of stay by criminals in the Madison county jail, also decreasing the number of jail prisoners at a given time, Griffith said. At present, sentencing is delayed 30 days for filing of post-trial motions by defense attorneys.

Partney Pulls Tavern License

The liquor license of the Cochlacht Tavern, 1509 Pontoon road, was surrendered to police at 1:45 p.m. Sunday, following the arrest at the tavern of five men on gambling charges. It was reported those booked were playing pool and placing wagers.

A hearing for Howard Douglas Elliot, 1513 Pontoon road, licensee, is pending before Mayor Donald Partney, who also holds the post of city liquor commissioner.

Taken into custody on charges of gambling were Francis M. Jernigan, 22, of 2603 East 24th street; Charles E. Miles, 27, of 1515 Joy avenue; Mike Hirschberg, 23, of Rock Hill, Mo.; Eldon L. Stearns, 46, of 4109 Braden avenue; and Reginald Briggs, 21, of 2449 Pine street. All were released on notice to appear for a hearing in magistrate's court on May 28.

Special CD Film Show Open to the Public

Granite City Civil Defense Director Victor H. Koenig today issued an invitation to the public to view two special movies, scheduled to be screened at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the local civil defense headquarters building, 1411 Nineteenth street.

Films to be shown, include a new 25-minute color production, entitled "In Time of Emergency." A second 45-minute black and white movie—"Though the Earth be Moved"—currently is being renewed interest, Koenig explained. He said the film records CD activities following the Good Friday earthquake in Alaska in 1964.

The latter movie won the honor award at the San Francisco International Film Festival in 1965. The Alaskan quake claimed 115 lives, a damage to property was listed in the hundreds of millions of dollars, the CD administrator noted.

In addition to the public, members of the Granite City auxiliary police department and their families have been invited to attend the special showing, Koenig advised.

Depot Bomb Squad to Remain in Local Area

At the present time, the Army has no plans to relocate the 50th Ordnance Detachment (explosive ordnance disposal), better-known as the Granite City Army Depot bomb squad. "In fact, it appears we will definitely stay in this area," Capt. Michael F. Kuhns, detachment commander said today.

Indications are that we will be here for some time, as we have been told there is no need to look for a new building," the Army officer said. Noting that proposed closing of the local military installation will be a lengthy process, Capt. Kuhns remarked that should it be necessary to move squad members from the Depot, they would probably remain at an installation in the two-state metropolitan area.

Assigned to the depot is a detached unit from Fort Leonard Wood, the 50th Detachment has the highest incidence of call-outs for assistance in the Fifth Army area, it was learned.

"We are trained as a metropolitan area unit," Capt. Kuhns noted, commenting that similar units are geared to handle different phases of explosive reconnaissance and disposal assignments.

The depot detachment serves an approximate 32,000 square mile area, including 61 counties in Illinois and four counties in Missouri. Its area of responsibility encompasses more than five million residents.

Visit Madison Soldier At Fort Leonard Wood

Mrs. Mary Hughes, 13 Garces Homes, Madison, and several friends of her son, Army Pvt. Russell B. Hughes Jr., visited yesterday at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., where the serviceman is undergoing basic training.

Pvt. Hughes, 17, attended Madison high school and enlisted in the Army March 24. Local residents accompanying Mrs. Hughes to Fort Leonard Wood were Miss Josephine Judd, Miss Sue Sherly, Charlotte Sherly and daughter, Lisa, and the enlistee's sister, Miss Rosemary Hughes.

Autos Back, Collide

While backing from driveways at 2030 Grand avenue, a second 45-minute black and white movie—"Though the Earth be Moved"—currently is being renewed interest, Koenig explained. He said the film records CD activities following the Good Friday earthquake in Alaska in 1964.

The latter movie won the honor award at the San Francisco International Film Festival in 1965. The Alaskan quake claimed 115 lives, a damage to property was listed in the hundreds of millions of dollars, the CD administrator noted.

In addition to the public, members of the Granite City auxiliary police department and their families have been invited to attend the special showing, Koenig advised.

Vote Tally Altered, Ballot Taken—Thomae

Charles G. Thomae, apparent runnerup to Robert Walters for the Republican state representative nomination May 17, again filed suit Friday to overturn the result. Earlier suits have been dismissed.

Thomae alleges that, in numerous instances, election judges changed tally sheets to make all the representative vote totals divisible by three, without actual knowledge of what the correct figures should be. At Granite City Precinct 13, an election official removed one or more ballots from the ballot box, he charges.

Thomae notes that the canvass showed he received more than 90% of the total listed for Walters. He called attention to the canvass changing the unofficial count by over 1000 in a 15,000 total.

Gateway Council Seeks to Become Census Depository

The board of directors of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council approved the recommendation from the executive advisory committee that the Gateway Council ask for official designation as a Census Depository.

The Gateway Council has been an active participant in activities leading to the 1970 Census enumeration. The staff of the Gateway Council has been meeting with various member jurisdictions regarding future use of Census materials, and presented their recommendations to the Board.

Under this program, the Gateway's role would be to secure metropolitan Census data from the two states as it becomes available. Having this Census Data would enable the Gateway to process requests for specific types of information from jurisdictions in this area or from private sources. The Gateway Council would then be able to receive requests for information and broker the best method of securing programs necessary to obtain particular information.

The board noted that this would provide the most economical method for government and non-government users in this area to secure whatever information is available from the Census.

It would also minimize potential duplication of effort, and enable the Gateway to spread the costs of whatever programming is necessary to obtain specific types of information.

Engineers to Proceed On Rapid Transit Plan

The board of commissioners of the Bi-State Development Agency has decided to instruct consulting engineers to proceed with planning and development of a rail-like, grade-separated rapid transit system for the metropolitan area. The proposed system would be complemented by a complete feeder bus system.

The decision of the board will enable the consortium of engineers to proceed with development of the long-range system, including a phased program for its implementation.

A technical report covering this facet of the study will be presented to Bi-State in June. Thereafter, the contractors will proceed with refinement of the initial project, and a final report on the entire system which should be available by the spring of 1971.

In other action, the board has heard a report on construction progress at Bi-State Parks Airport in Cahokia. Under construction is a new 500-foot runway that will be capable of being lengthened to 700 feet. Soon to be constructed are 30 "T" hangars.

Construction currently underway and soon to be started will amount to $1,063,000. Also, jet fuel facilities are being installed at the airport. All the new airport facilities are scheduled to be operational by late summer.

The commissioners have expressed support for the action of Gov. Ogilvie of Illinois in his commitment to assist in development of a second air carrier airport for the St. Louis area. They indicated that Bi-State would have welcomed a more active role, but said they will cooperate in every way possible to make the project a success.

12 Residential Fires
Thomas McCosky, secretary of the Venice fire department, reported to the council Friday night that firemen answered 37 alarms during the first quarter of the month of this year, involving property valued at $21,585 and contents valued at $33,450.

Losses amounted to $11,585 to property and $2300 to contents, for a total fire loss of $14,875 during the first quarter of the year, McCosky reported.

The fire department responded to 12 alarms involving council dwellings, ten for grass and rubbish fires, three auto and truck fires, two for electrical fires at commercial establishments, three out-of-town fires, one call to a school and one rescue call.

7877 Vehicles Daily
Henry McMullen, manager of McKinley Bridge, reported to the council that vehicular traffic across the bridge during March averaged 7877 vehicles per day.

The council approved a building permit requested by Vernon Brown, 108 Abbott street, for construction of a garage at an estimated cost of $400.

A low bid of $225 by Lee Auto Body Co. for repair of a stop sign on Sixth street at Filmore avenue.

225,223 Library Costs
The Venice public library had total expenditures of $17,349 for salaries and $10,885 for supplies during the fiscal year ending Thursday, but ended the year with a balance of $12,724, according to an annual library report presented to the council by Controller Carl Byrnes.

The report showed the library fund began the fiscal year May 1, 1969, with a balance of $21,972 and received taxes amounting to $19,865 for total available funds of $40,958. Total disbursements of $28,233 against this fund left the balance of $12,724.

Salary expenditures of $17,349 included $5,949 for extra help, $5000 for the librarian, $1800 for the secretary and treasurer and $4600 for janitor service.

547 Arrests in Year
The police department made a total of 547 arrests during the 1969-70 fiscal year, according to Essington, who said the city received $5907 in fines resulting from disposition of the cases in circuit courts.

Largest number of arrests in any single month was in April 1969, when the department made 87 arrests and received $882 in fines.

Arrests and fines for other months were: May, 51 and $907; June, 61 and $357; July, 37 and $303; August, 53 and $391; September, 51 and $679; October, 61 and $646; November, 45 and $543; December, 39 and $151; January, 30 and $38; February, 31 and $759; and March, 21 and $504.

Our Ethnic Background—A Hidden Resource

Illinois is fortunate in having a great variety of ethnic groups—and we are richer, not poorer, for that variety. In a very real sense, Illinois represents the nation in that regard.

I had a chance at a recent meeting to speak to representatives of some of the foreign-language press in the Chicago area.

Each ethnic group within the nation faces certain special problems. But one problem that many groups find is a reluctance on the part of second and third generation Americans to identify in any respect with the culture of their ancestors.

Let's take a practical example.

Let's call him Tony Napoli. His parents came to the United States before he was born. They are now American citizens but speak English with a heavy accent.

Tony is now 32 years old, has a wife and two children and a good job. He has moved away from the old Italian neighborhood in Chicago to a suburb where he is buying his home. He is understandably pleased with the progress he has made and his parents are proud of him.

When his parents visit him in the suburbs he is a little embarrassed by their Italian accent. Tony is an American, and proud of it—and would like to forget his Italian heritage, to become more a part of the typical American community than his parents could.

He subscribes to no Italian language newspaper and never speaks Italian around his wife or children; he belongs to no organizations which help to preserve that Italian heritage.

His attitude is understandable.

But are the state and nation richer or poorer because he wants to forget?

My answer is that we are infinitely poorer. If he can enrich this nation by helping the rest of us to understand the Italian heritage and contribution more, all of us are richer for that contribution.

And obviously what is true of Tony can be said of the Poles, Mexicans, Puerto Ricans, Danes, Lithuanians, Jew, Afro-Americans and every other group who regardless of national background have a special contribution to make.

Somewhat we ought to be doing more to preserve some of the heritage that has gone into this American melting pot.

Highland, Illinois is a community founded by the Swiss. I'd like to see a great Swiss-oriented annual community festival that could attract citizens there from all over the state and nation, and year-round activities which acknowledge their unusual heritage.

In East St. Louis the famous American dance pioneers, Miss Katherine Dunham, has collected items for a start of a museum which tells us something of our African heritage. That museum needs encouragement.

What we need to do to encourage cultural ties and an awareness of our rich heritage is something that should concern all of us in our respective communities.

If any of you have any ideas, I'd like to hear from you.

Training, Jobs for Handicapped

(Goodwill Industries)

Handicapped people of our nation deserve the concentrated good will of the public at least one week in the year. Based on this logical supposition, Goodwill Industries annually sponsors Goodwill Week to encourage good will toward the handicapped.

The theme for 1970 Goodwill Week—May 3-9—is: "Goodwill Builds People For Jobs."

The idea is that through evaluation, counseling, therapy, job training and placement, handicapped people are helped to develop their skills and live to the highest possible level. For people who often begin without skills and confidence, this kind of help can be tremendous.

It is quite amazing that a large portion of Goodwill's program is financed through such a simple process as the contributions of usable clothing and household articles by the public.

Repair and reconditioning of the articles provides training, work experience and employment. Sale of the repaired articles produces a substantial portion of the income to operate the Goodwill Industries program. Only capital needs and subsidies for professional services call for community financial support.

The basic idea behind Goodwill Industries is summed up in the Biblical phrase of

New War Phase Bringing the Controversy To a Decisive Point in U. S., Indochina

No less an authority than President Truman noted that the office required an occupant willing to climb out on a limb someone was trying to saw off. Ascertaining "the buck stops here," the man who sent American troops into battle in Korea advised office-seekers, "If you can't stand the heat, stay out of the kitchen."

The comparison comes to mind in considering the difficult choices confronting President Nixon regarding the U. S. role in Indochina—Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos and Thailand. The outlook is potentially more disastrous than two decades ago for three reasons:

1. Legislators generally saw the 1950 issue in positive terms—containing Communist aggression to avoid enslavement of free peoples and preventing the strategic dilemma of seeing America gradually isolated as a lone bastion of freedom in a world ruled by a murderous totalitarian system.

In 1970, a frighteningly large and growing number of U. S. senators see no red threat and want the U. S. to disarm while others retain their military power and weapons. Many senators want America to scrap not only its offensive hardware but also its defensive capability.

2. Korea involved an understandable, definable controversy. Opposing armies fought over real estate, and the eventual truce placed the two, North and South, on opposite sides of the agreed-upon boundary line.

In Vietnam, the U. S. administration was over allegiance of the population in the South; a hill might be evacuated immediately after scores of soldiers had died to win it. The enemy was given relatively privileged sanctuary in the North and in countries adjacent to Vietnam. Emphasis was placed on inflicting casualties on the North through fighting in the South, in the hope that this might prompt the Communists to halt their aggression.

3. There was limited public disagreement with U. S. policies in the early 1950s but the Reds did not base their tactics primarily on persuading U. S. citizens to criticize and demonstrate against their government and the companies helping to supply American troops.

Today, public opinion is mixed. In recent weeks, the enemy is believed to have been trying to provoke enough fighting to assure that U. S. battle deaths top 100 each week. The reasoning is that it is better to die in a weekly fatalities regularly exceed 100, the American public will quickly lose its patience

One of the most exciting changes in the educational pattern will occur in Illinois in June at Valley View District 96 in Romeoville.

Using the basic concept of operating school facilities on a year-round basis, District 96 will start a year-round student schedule that offers success where previous plans have failed.

In 1962-63, six one-room school districts were combined to make one of the largest elementary school districts in the state, covering 41.5 square miles. In 1963, there were 200 homes, mostly farms, in the Valley View school district proper.

In 1969, following the subdividing of much of the farmland, there were 5000 homes in the district with 5400 students attending six elementary schools. Estimates are that by 1979 there will be 22,000 students in the school district due to the tremendous amount of new homes being built in the area.

The area is south of Quincy, near Joliet, and easily accessible from Interstate 55 and by commercial roads.

and demand immediate withdrawal of our men without regard to consequences.

Now that American fighting men have moved into Cambodia—to bolster that nation against an invasion by North Vietnam, and to eliminate bases which were being used against our units in South Vietnam—the "fat is in the fire" and the temperature is rising in the "kitchen" cited by President Truman.

Opponent who argues that the U. S. has nothing to gain and many lives to lose by remaining in Indochina. Supporters will contend that we must "stand up and be counted" somewhere or eventually find ourselves making a stand on the California coast, or maybe the banks of the Mississippi.

Our servicemen and national leaders are going to be earning their salaries during what may prove to be a decisive year, when we either risked much to gain a worthwhile achievement, as the President sees it, or gambled recklessly, as Senator "doves" view it. Every person, every family, here and elsewhere in the world, has much at stake.

Democracy Thriving, Madison Students Find in Visit to City Council Session

Shades of the Granite City council meeting! The Madison city aldermanic session last week included a clash between the mayor and council majority, disputed appointments and the device of naming appointees to serve for a 30-day period without council consent.

It was a development not seen in Madison for many decades. Difference of opinion had occurred behind the scenes from time to time, but the public municipal deliberations traditionally were calm, serene and consistently undramatic.

The close-of-the-fiscal-year meeting last week brought out an open split in the ranks, related directly to the special mayor election in July. Between the mayor and council majority, continuing fireworks between the acting mayor and his adherents, on the one hand, and backers of the mayor candidate endorsed by the executive board of the Madison city political organization.

Spectators at the meeting included Madison high school students preparing to observe "Student Government Day" with a mock council session. That they learned fast about their subsequent vote to have their student "mayor" pay a hypothetical bill from his own pockets rather than from their simulated tax revenues.

Although what the teenagers witnessed was unexpected, it certainly qualified as education. They saw life as it really was, not a textbook description of a polite parliamentary discussion.

There are lamentable drawbacks to such wrangling; for example, it would be unfortunate if progress in developing the Stephen Maers Industrial Park had to mark time, or if city departments became inefficient due to policy confusion.

It also would be a shame for the election to be decided on issues other than who can provide the best leadership for sound and effective governmental services in the early 1970s.

But their antics, however healthy and wholesome about the 5-3 council vote on a bid call, after so many years of unanimity.

It was even good to hear voices raised in anger, although it is diminishing as the returns if this became the pattern. At least the participants showed they were real people, not the cardboard cutouts they had resembled on some occasions.

Democracy is alive and well in Madison. Long may it reign.

SASKY CIVIC MINDED

CAPABLE ADMINISTRATOR

To the Editor:

I read with interest the Madison resident who wrote to The Forum urging Mayor pro-tem, Raymond Kozelek.

This letter is in support of Mike Sasyk. I am behind Sasyk for the following reasons:

1. I find Mike to be a man of his word. When it is given, you can rely on it.

2. He is an intelligent person who has a good business sense—an administrator.

3. He is an active and civic-minded individual. He is one of the key supporters of the Madison Lions youth group.

4. He is sincere in his interest in the welfare of all the people.

5. He is not vindictive. You can disagree with Mike and not worry about reprisals of any kind.

I am very understanding that I ever been connected, not have with the Madison City Organization, I would vote 20-10 in favor of Sasyk for mayor. I am an independent and will always be independent.

I am interested in the present and future of Madison.

After observing the actions of the two principal candidates, I have come to the conclusion that Mike Sasyk is Madison's man.

Q) I sent in my tax return without a W-2 form from a part-time job. Should I send it in?

A) If you included the income and amount of tax withheld from the Form W-2 on the income tax return you filed, send the W-2 to the IRS for association with your return.

However, if you did not include the wages and tax amounts from the W-2 on your return, then you should file Form 1042X, Amended U. S. Individual Income Tax Return.

Fill out this form completely and attach it to the instructions and send it with the W-2 to the Internal Revenue Service Center serving your district. Copies of Form 1042X and instructions are available at IRS offices.

Q) I just put in a retirement plan for myself and the three people I employ in my business. If I take cash out of the plan, do I have to put it in a retirement plan too?

A) No, part-time and summer employees usually do not have to be included in a self-employed retirement plan.

Q) I want details on these plans may be found in IRS Publication 560, Retirement Plans for Self-Employed Individuals. Send a postcard to your IRS office for a copy.

Miss Love, Pvt. Jas. Grote Exchange Wedding Vows

The wedding of Miss Deborah Ann Love, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bousman, 2721 Myrtle avenue, and Pvt. James Raymond Grote, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lindell Pinegar of Fredericktown, Mo., took place Saturday evening at Calvary Baptist Church.

The candlelight ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by Rev. John Lamb before the altar decorated with arrangements of white flowers. Candles illuminated the aisle through which the procession passed, the bride escorted by her father.

Brooks Holder presided at the organ and accompanied Mrs. Holder as she sang the Lord's Prayer, and "Because."

The bride's Empire gown of white organza, accented with beaded and scalloped nylon and acetate chantilly, had a detachable chapel train and an

A-line skirt. A bouffant veil of tulle was held in place with a headpiece of pearls and petals and the bride carried a bouquet of yellow and white roses.

Miss Janet Yeager, maid of honor, wore a pastel pink sateau peau redingote styled gown. It was outlined with schiffli embroidered motifs and she carried a bouquet of pink daisies and white carnations. The bridesmaids were similarly attired in light blue gowns with blue daisies in their bouquets. They were Miss Roxann Love, a sister of the bride, Miss Eleanor Pierce, Miss Sandra Stringer and Miss Martha Wylie.

Marion Stawar was best man for Pvt. Grote, and serving as groomsmen and ushers were Ronald Briggs, Mike Briggs, Robert Wojtowicz, Gary Mendenhall, Robert Douglas and Bruce David.

The wedding reception was held in the church social rooms, and the newlyweds left for Fredericktown, Mo. They will return May 10 and Pvt. Grote will leave soon for Vietnam. His bride will remain with her parents here.

Both young people graduated in 1969 from Granite City high school, and the former Miss Love is employed as a stenographer by a St. Louis bank.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the bride's parents Friday evening at their home.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a pure white silk eyelet organza gown fashioned with a Victorian neckline edged with scalloped, imported Venise lace motifs. More of the motifs formed a mock bolero and the sleeves were full, tightly cuffed and trimmed with covered buttons. Scalloped lace bordered the hemline and the full sweep train which fell from the waistline.

A floor-length veil of silk illusion was held in place with a high crown of white spring blossoms, and the bride carried a garden bouquet of assorted white, pink and blue flowers and baby breath.

What's a nice girl like you doing in a place like this?

Why not let an automatic dishwasher take you away from it all? Away from all the drudgery of washing more than 30,000 dishes a year. Away from the 200 or more hours you spend bending over the kitchen sink.

A modern automatic dishwasher can help you be the nice person you really are. You can flip a switch and relax with the family after dinner. You can enjoy your nice, neat kitchen because dishes are tucked away out of sight in the dishwasher as they're used during the day. And you can enjoy nice, pretty hands again.

A portable dishwasher can be in your kitchen, doing your dishes and pots and pans tonight. No installation needed. See your appliance dealer today. Any questions? Just ask your Home Economist at Illinois Power.

Robert Douglass Gets Promoted at Soc Trang

Army Specialist Four Robert Douglass, 21, son of Robert Douglass, 2724 West 20th street, and brother of Mrs. Harold E. Robinson of the same address, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant, the family learned last week.

The soldier is one of three local servicemen currently stationed at the same U. S. Army airfield in a remote section of the Mekong Delta in South Vietnam. A fourth serviceman, Air Force Sgt. George L. Wilkerson, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wilkerson, 4020 Park lane, recently returned home from the same base, after serving 18 months in Vietnam. Sgt. Douglass was graduated from Venice high school in 1967 and joined the Army about two years ago. He has served the past 10 months in Vietnam, having completed a 12-month tour of duty with the First Infantry Division between December 1966 and last December.

Following a short leave at home at Christmastime, the soldier returned to Southeast Asia and was assigned as a security policeman with the First Aviation Brigade at Soc Trang airfield. During his initial tour, he suffered a shrapnel wound and was awarded two Army Commendation Medals for heroism and a Commendation Medal for meritorious service. Sgt. Douglass is expected to return home early in July.

Scholastic Honors For Jon Jenkins

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Jenkins, 2442 Lynch avenue, have been advised by F. Brooke Sloes, dean of men at Westminster College, Fulton, Mo., that their son, Jon, a freshman, was invited to the annual Honors Dinner, sponsored by the faculty and Zeta Tau Delta.

The dinner was held for students whose academic performance indicates they will probably qualify for Zeta Tau Delta, the senior scholastic honor society. "Congratulations are due to you for your son's fine performance and for your significant contribution in making Westminster the high quality institution that it is," the dean wrote.

Jenkins graduated from Granite City high school in 1969 and recently was elected president of the sophomore class for 1970-71.

Governing Board Is Proposed for Fair

Creation of an independent bipartisan public corporation to govern operation of the Illinois State Fair is proposed in a bill now before the General Assembly.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie requested the legislation, which would place general responsibility for the fair and for naming a fair manager, his salary and term of office in a five-man board. It would transfer auditing of the fair from the auditor general, an appointed official, to the state auditor, who is elected independently.

Ogilvie said the governing board would "function in an entirely independent manner patterned on the experience of other exposition authorities." This would include managing the fairgrounds and receiving appropriations for operation of the annual fair and interim events.

LOCAL YOUNG PEOPLE rehearse the "Cha-Cha-Cha" in preparation for Saturday's public presentation of the "Cinco de Mayo Fiesta" at the Venice-Madison American Legion hall. Ottwein Cites SIU-SW, Opposes Higher Tuition

State Senator Merrill Ottwein last week voiced opposition to proposed university tuition hikes and salary increase curbs.

"Higher education benefits the individual scholar and his society," he asserted. "The question is: If we allocate costs to the real beneficiaries, how much should each pay? And what if the student can't pay?"

"The public currently has the lion's share of the costs. The governor's proposal would raise the students' share only to 10% of actual overall costs. It would still be 13% below the average of our neighbors and less than all but one. The proposal is not without defense."

"Tuition if raised would produce an additional $17 million in revenue. Extra scholarships would reduce this amount."

"Another part of the proposal: If the student can't pay, additional scholarships would be made available. Yet, even at this moment, over 40% of our college undergraduates are using some kind of scholarship or waiver."

"Some are used to aid students needing financial aid, and others as incentives for producing needed skills. For example, waivers for teacher training are extensively used, even though we are on the verge of a surplus of teachers."

Local Factors

"At SIU-SW, we probably have the most unusual situation in the state in that we have more needy students in attendance than at any other school. Because of the proximity to home and moderate fees, thousands of our young people are getting an education who couldn't in any other way. Perhaps of greater importance, our area desperately needs to have these thousands educated and contributing," Ottwein said.

"All in all, I'm inclined to oppose the governor's recommendations and accept instead the Board of Higher Education's ideas for a step-by-step increase in tuition and a thorough overhaul of the scholarship system."

"The tuition and scholarship hikes otherwise proposed would augment the discrepancy between those who pay and those who use scholarships, while not affecting overall costs to the state very much. Peter's pocket and Paul's pocket are part of the same suit of clothes."

"My attitude is certainly strengthened by the local situation. Tuition hikes would evidently prove a handicap to many students — students we need back in the community after college days, with a solid education."

Competitive Pay Scale

"As to salaries of college staff, as long as productivity and efficiency are guarded, I would see competitive wages as a priority expenditure."

"Higher education is really 'big business' and we must purchase quality personal services. But, as 'big business,' colleges desperately need application of other cost-controlling principles: Efficient use of people along with close supervision of operating and construction costs. We should be able to save more than enough money here to cover small wage hikes."

"We need to reconcile this adjustment with the total program and financial picture of the state. A legislator has to match the income with the outgo; any other behavior is completely irresponsible."

"My own attempt to reconcile this: If we can avoid opening the dangerous door to subsidizing private education, we will have about $30 million available that can be used to go with the modest salary hikes as originally proposed, avoiding the big tuition jumps and going instead to the board's original step-by-step overhaul."

Public Fiesta Saturday To Observe Anniversary

Commemorating the 108th anniversary of the "Battle of Puebla," the major turning point in the revolutionary war to free Mexico, the Mexican Honorary Commission of Granite City will sponsor the "Cinco de Mayo" Fiesta at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Venice-Madison American Legion hall, 740 Broadway, Venice.

The public is invited to attend the fiesta which is highlighted each year with a variety show, performed by local young people, and dancing to Latin-American music, played by the Los Hermanos Santacruz orchestra.

Refreshments, including an assortment of Mexican foods, may be obtained at the celebration, according to Steve Ortiz, Commission president.

Tickets, costing $2 advance, currently are available from Ernie and Annie's Tavern, 935 Niedringhaus avenue; Valencia's Tasty Cream, 2041 Johnson road; Mendoza Sporting Goods, 938 Niedringhaus avenue; Tri-City Cycle Shop, 306 Madison avenue, Madison; Santacruz Lounge, St. Louis; and the American Legion, Post 307, Venice.

Admission tickets also may be obtained at the door, at $2.50 per person and $1.50 for children, Ortiz said.

Miss Lisa Garcia is directing the artistic group, consisting of nearly 75 teenage youth and younger children. Mrs. Barbara Valencia is assisting the director, with Mrs. Helen Valencia in charge of costumes and Mrs. Elva Ortiz heading the publicity committee.

Other fiesta officials include A. L. "Pete" Metcalf, general ticket chairman, assisted by Daniel Brown and Tony Valencia; Joseph Becerra, bar; Abel Valencia, server; Donald and Beverly Valencia, kitchen; August Becerra, advertising and boosters; and Felipe Jaime, decorations.

Auto Breaks Post

Freddie Haldeman, 37, of 4924 Willow lane, was charged with careless driving at 8:30 a.m. after his northbound auto had struck a concrete Illinois Power Co. post at 4010 Nameoki road. The standard was sheared off at the base. Haldeman was passing another car at a curve and lost control of the vehicle when the tire encountered cinders as he accelerated.

Free refreshments and live entertainment also are scheduled, according to Warden Brantley, who pointed out the admission restrictions are applicable to children under 16 years of age and relatives of inmates confined at Menard.

Trucker Strike, Scrap Costs Cut Laclede Revenue

Hits Depot Gate

Both the front and rear of an auto driven by Raymond Perry, St. Louis, were damaged about 11:30 p.m. Thursday when it skidded on County road and spun into the Army Depot gate. Perry told Venice police he was headed north on County road and that his brakes were wet when he tried to slow down, causing him to go into a spin.

Laclede Steel Co. on Friday reported a net loss of $2,328,601 for the first quarter of 1970. Net sales for the period reached $20,466,157.

In the 1969 annual report to stockholders, President Paul B. Akin had predicted a loss for the first half of 1970. He had indicated that the pre-stressed merchant bar mill, recently put in operation at the Alton plant, had not yet reached the point of producing a quantity of new products to offset the seasonal lull in shipments of construction products in this period.

Akin also cited the sudden upsurge of scrap prices as an important factor having an adverse effect on earnings.

"More than one million dollars of the increase in loss before income taxes from the first quarter of 1969 was a result of increased scrap costs," he said. Export Curbs Urged

Steel management is active in urging the government to impose restrictions on the export of scrap.

"In April of this year, indications were that our planned shipments could result in a break-even or a small profit for the month."

"A truck strike in the St. Louis area quickly changed this picture, however, and reduced our level of shipments. Now

Muffler Charge Filed

Carol L. Griffith, 2812 Harding blvd., was ticketed on a charge of driving with an improper muffler at 6:40 p.m. Thursday at 3004 Madison avenue.

April will show a loss," Akin said. Looking to the future, he said, "I am pleased to report that the new equipment is all running well, and I am confident that those adverse factors beyond the control of management will soon be overcome."
